

NEW ROOF IS ORDERED FOR MEADE SCHOOL

Meade School building, which has been undergoing alterations since late summer to bring it into line with state Department of Labor and Industry regulations and to make it usable "for many years" as a grade school building, is going to get a new roof.

The Finance and Planning committee of the Gettysburg Joint School board, given authority last week to get the facts and make an early decision on the Meade School roof, met Monday evening at the high school with representatives of Burchart Associates.

The estimate on the cost of the new asbestos shingle roof is $8,940 and includes all necessary sheet metal work. The committee also voted to spend an extra $946 to insulate the building above its second floor ceiling to "cut down excessive heat loss." The new roof will carry a 25-year guarantee.

Reject Flat Roof Idea

Last week at the regular meeting of the joint school board, the directors had been put on notice that the 60-year-old slate roof was leaking and in bad repair. It was estimated then that repairs would cost $6,375 and would involve placing 2,000 new slate.

With the estimate on the new roof only about $2,000 above the repairs estimate, the Finance and Planning committee decided to go ahead at once with the new roof in the hope the work can be finished before winter weather arrives.

A suggestion made at the board meeting last week that the upper section of the Meade School masonry and gabled roofs be removed and replaced with a flat or slightly sloping roof was rejected Monday evening on advice of the architects as impractical.

The committee's action on the new roof and insulation will be up for confirmation at the November of the joint school board.

The work approved Monday night will push the total expected cost of the Meade school work close to the $90,000 mark but it was pointed out last Monday that the remodeling costs remain "less than half what it would cost to put up a new building to handle the same number of pupils."

Chairman Ray J. Kitzmiller presided at Monday evening's committee meeting.

COUNTY MAN GIVEN NEW PRISON TERM

A 36-year-old Abbotstown man, Lewis M. Bosserman, on parole from Eastern Penitentiary, drew a new prison term of three to six years Monday from Judge George W. Atkins, York, after pleading guilty to eight charges of burglary, including seven with counts of larceny and receiving stolen goods.

Bosserman will also have up to four years to serve as a parole violator, on a five-to-10-year sentence imposed for a series of burglaries in 1949. His parole had only 31 days to run before the new series started last July.

According to information supplied the court by State Trooper Leon Leiter, the burglaries to which Bosserman pleaded guilty Monday were committed between July 27 and Aug. 12 and were house burglaries, which netted him from nothing up to $166 apiece in cash and other items, including a revolver and shells.

The victims were identified as Charles H. Renold, Spring Grove R. 3; Clifton Deneues, West Manchester Twp.; Robert E. Flaherty, Hellam R. 2; Dale R. Reichart, Abbotstown; the Rev. Charles W. Best, Brogueville; Marvin T. Blevins, Stewartstown R. 2; Lloyd E. Shumaker, York R. 2; and Preston A. Hersner, York R. 2.

Bosserman's counsel asked for leniency on the grounds the defendant had been harassed because of his criminal background and suffered a breakdown. He said he was gainfully employed at the time of the recent burglaries.

MEN TO MEET

The fall meeting of the Men's Group of the Presbyterian Church here will be held Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in Fellowship hall at the church. The program will be on Alcoholics Anonymous and James Schwenk will be the speaker. President Rodney Laird will preside. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Puts Children In Freezer To Die; Suicides

MERRICK, N. Y. (AP) — A 34-year-old housewife left her two small daughters in a home freezer to die Monday and then hanged herself in her home.

Police said Joan Anton placed the pajama-clad children, Barbara, 5, and Joan, 9 months, inside the unused freezer in the basement just after her husband Alfred, a painter, left for work.

Some time later, Mrs. Anton hanged herself from a beam in the attic.

Police said Mrs. Anton had a history of mental disturbance and had become increasingly despondent recently after several operations on her back.

There are two other children in the family, Alfred, 11, and George, 10, who are staying with Anton's sister for the school year in Hialeah, Fla.

TO MASS U. N. FLAGS SUNDAY FOR EXERCISES

Sixty flags of members of the United Nations will be carried into Christ Chapel on the Gettysburg College campus Sunday afternoon for the public observance of United Nations Day when Congressman James W. Quigley will be the speaker.

The program will be held at 3 p.m. and will follow a concert by the Gettysburg College band.

The national emblems of the United Nations' members will be carried to the front of the chapel by Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts and will be massed at the front for the program, it was announced Monday evening following a final meeting of the county-wide planning committee headed by the Rev. Charles E. Held, a representative of the Gettysburg Lions Club.

Burgess Wilbur L. Plank will introduce Congressman Quigley.

Programs in Schools, Clubs President Eisenhower's U. N. Day proclamation will be read as a part of the afternoon program. Reports given at Monday's meeting of the committee showed that schools throughout the county will observe U. N. Day this week with special classroom or assembly programs. In some cases U. N. films will be shown and use made of U. N. literature which has been made available to school administrators.

Many service and other civic clubs are having special U. N. programs this week or next, Chairman Held said. The county committee has made available a list of U. N. speakers for clubs and other civic groups who wish to present U. N. anniversary programs.

The complete program for Sunday's public observance at the chapel will be announced later this week.

TWO PACK PROJECTS

Cub Scout Pack 76 of Fairfield will hold a Halloween social at St. Mary's hall at Fairfield Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock and then on Saturday morning will conduct a paper drive in the community. Residents are asked to place their bundles of paper at the curb so the boys may collect it there.

RECEIVE DRAFT CALL

The local draft board has received a call for ten men for induction and 12 men for physical examinations Nov. 17.

3rd Weekly Grid Contest Won By Chester Schultz Who Picked 13 Winners

Thirteen was the lucky number in last week's football contest conducted by The Gettysburg Times and 17 cooperating merchants.

Chester Schultz, 76 E. Broadway, correctly named 13 winners in the 17 games listed to win the first prize of $15. He selected 16 for the feature game point total. The feature game total was zero, Gettysburg and Middletown playing to a scoreless tie.

Rodney Fair, R. 4, won the second prize of $5 on his feature total of 19 and with 12 correct games choices.

Winners of the five $1 awards: Ronald A. Miller, 214 W. Middle St., 12 winners, 24-point total; Etta Rummel, Aspers R. 1, 12 winners, 30 points; Marie Little, 404 S. Washington St., 11 winners, 13 points; Richard Wilson, R. 3, 11 winners, 20 points; and John Greiner, R. 3, 11 winners, 24 points. One other contestant named 11 winners but his feature

ROTARY CLUB GIVES $600 TO CHEST DRIVE

A $600 donation to Community Chest was voted by the Gettysburg Rotary Club at a meeting of its board of directors at the YWCA Monday night. The board also voted $50 for the Adams County Free Library and $10 toward the observance of U. N. Day.

Robert L. Fisher, United Nations Relief and Works administrator in Gaza, the five-mile strip between Egypt and Israel, spoke on the problem of the 1,000,000 Arab refugees from Israel at a meeting of the Rotary Club preceding the board session. He said the problem "will not be solved until there is a major change in the viewpoint of the nations involved."

Fisher, who has been with the U. N. handling the refugee situation in Jordan and Gaza for the last 9½ years, recalled that when the United Nations Relief and Work administration was set up it was anticipated that the problem would be solved within a few months and that the accent would be on the "works" part of the program.

"Nothing But Relief" "Now, 9½ years later, we have found that we actually are providing nothing but relief and that, because the refugees have many children and their death rate is low due to the good medical care they are receiving, we have more refugees than we started with."

Fisher said that the problem of the refugee must be solved by the United Nations General Assembly and the nations involved and that until there is a change in the viewpoint of the nations nothing more can be done than to feed, cloth and house them.

U.S. Attorneys Go To File Petition In Pittsburgh For T-H Steel Strike Injunction

By BEN DE FOREST

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The government was set today to try to put to an end—at least temporarily—the costly 96-day-old nationwide steel strike.

Acting under the Taft-Hartley Act, President Eisenhower Monday directed Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers to seek a federal court injunction that would send the nation's 500,000 striking steelworkers back to the mills for 80 days.

Plans then were made for George C. Doub, assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's civil division, to present the injunction petition today in U.S. District court here—headquarters of the United Steelworkers.

Hearing This Afternoon

Government attorneys were expected in Pittsburgh about noon. The U.S. attorney's office said

CHEST MEETING THIS EVENING

Mrs. C. M. Happersett, director, Adams County Community Chest, this morning reminded volunteer workers of a report meeting to be held this evening at the YWCA from 7 p.m. until 8:30 a.m.

All workers are urged to make reports, if only partial. Meanwhile, donations are being received at headquarters in the offices of the Red Cross on Baltimore St. from residents who have not been called upon by volunteers.

Mrs. Happersett reported that some workers have submitted completed reports "which are encouraging," but stressed "full co-operation from community and workers alike if the goal of $26,500, benefiting seven local participating agencies, is to be realized."

VIOLATIONS CHARGED

William T. Noel, 28, New Oxford R. 1, has been charged by police with speeding and Stewart J. Phillips, 21, Littlestown R. 1, with a stop sign violation in information filed before Justice of the Peace George A. Lippy.

24 ADULT GIRL SCOUT LEADERS ARE PRESENTED CERTIFICATES

Twenty-four adult Girl Scout leaders were presented certificates of successful completion of the program at the final session of the 16-hour Leadership Training Course held by the Adams County Girl Scout Council at the New Oxford United Church of Christ Monday night.

Mrs. Donald Fair, instructor, and Mrs. M. Hardy Nichols, County Girl Scout executive, conducted the investiture service.

The final session stressed the Girl Scout camping programs on troop, day camp and established camp levels and gave details in instruction. Films on the operation of the camping program were shown.

Display Of Crafts

A crafts display was held with each leader showing crafts completed by Girl Scouts in her unit. There was a discussion on the methods of making the crafts. The leaders who received certificates are:

Arendtsville, Mrs. Edward Hoffman, Mrs. David C. Houck and Mrs. R. Delroy Keller; Gettysburg, Mrs. Harry E. Baker, R. 4; New Oxford, Mrs. Harold Bolinger, R. 2; Mrs. Clayton Hamberger, 120 Berlin Rd.; Mrs. Russell J. Reck, Miss Shirley A. Smith, Miss Diana Weaver and Mrs. Charles E. Wentz.

Resigns Pastorate For Seminary Post

Resignation of the Rev. Herbert W. Stroup Jr., pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Camp Hill, to accept a call from the Lutheran Theological Seminary, was announced Monday. He will leave the Camp Hill pastorate Feb. 1 to continue graduate work until he assumes his new duties, Sept. 1, 1960.

Rev. Mr. Stroup will become a member of the seminary faculty as director of field work and professor of church administration. His resignation from Trinity Lutheran Church, where he has been serving since 1952, was presented Sunday to the congregation.

MEETING IS CANCELLED

A meeting of the Citizens' Advisory Committee at Gettysburg College, originally scheduled for next Monday that was to include a tour of the Student Union building, has been postponed. The building is not ready for inspection. The committee will tour the building within the next two months, according to William G. Weaver, committee chairman.

TO OPEN STREET SOON

Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winbrenner said today that N. Fourth St. will be opened to traffic next Monday. A new and wider bridge was erected over the Tiber between E. Barlow and E. Water Sts. on N. Fourth St. recently by borough workmen. The street has been open to pedestrians but remains closed to vehicular traffic.

BENEFIT PARTY

The first in the series of card parties to be held for the benefit of the Charity fund of the Fairfield Lions club will be held Wednesday at 8 o'clock in the Fairfield High School cafeteria.

Jetliner, 3 Engines Loose, Crashes In Flames On Test Flight; 4 Of 8 Are Killed

EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — A Boeing 707 intermediate jetliner, three engines torn loose in test maneuvers and trailing flames, crashed on a river sand bar northeast of here Monday. Four of the eight aboard apparently were killed.

An unidentified body was recovered by rescuers who worked late into the night searching the swift-flowing river and its wooded banks under the glow of emergency searchlights.

Witnesses said one engine of the plane, on a test flight for Braniff International Airways, fell in flames as the pilot tried to reach a pasture 200 yards from the crash site.

After talking to survivors, Boeing said three engines on the five-million dollar plane were torn

Tells Kiwanians Of Cancer Program

The weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club was held Monday evening at Bren-Da's Restaurant with 15 members and seven guests present.

William Smith, field representative, American Cancer Society, spoke briefly of the cancer program, and outlined a survey to be made, which will have the support of the Kiwanis Club.

Mrs. Henrietta Blocher, Adams County chairman of the society, was a guest at the dinner. Sterling Musselman represented Gettysburg, and Attorney S. M. Raffensberger is chairman of the Fairfield-New Oxford-Littlestown area.

EAST BERLIN IS IN "DIFFERENT WORLD": KORTE

"West Berlin is like America but East Berlin is a different world," the Rev. Edwirth E. Korte, Gettysburg College chaplain who recently spent three months in Germany, told members of the Gettysburg Lions Club Monday evening in a talk at the club's weekly dinner meeting at the Shetter House.

"In East Berlin the people are shabbily dressed and seem depressed and without hope," he said. "In East Berlin, the church is being fought so severely that it may have to go underground. Some of the bravest people in the world today are preaching and worshipping in the churches of East Berlin."

The chaplain said the church is "doing a tremendous job in fighting communism" there. He reported that Germans "love America" and expressed the opinion that feeling has grown from help received through the Marshall plan and aid sent there through the churches.

Lack Humility

Much of his time in Germany was spent with students and he described them as "better students and more conservative and more eager to learn" than most students in America. More students are going to church now than a few years ago, he said, and there is growing interest and activity in the church among German laymen. He described the German students' "thirst" for knowledge and said that Bible study groups there overflow their quarters.

He spoke briefly of a visit to Austria, to many centers of learning in Germany, six trips into East Germany and then sight-seeing in Paris and London on the way home. "Americans and Germans are more alike than they are different," he said in conclusion.

First National To Hold Annual Dinner

Rev. Dr. Wallace E. Fisher, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Holy Trinity, Lancaster, will be the speaker Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Hotel Gettysburg at the 33rd annual Shareholders dinner of The First National Bank of Gettysburg.

I. Z. Musselman, president of the bank, said the Lancaster pastor is a former member of the history faculty of Gettysburg College and a former pastor of Christ Lutheran Church here.

LOCAL DRIVER ARRESTED

Clyde A. Miller, 29, Fourth St., was arrested by Carlisle police early Sunday morning on a charge of operating while under the influence. He was nabbed on North Hanover St., after which he was pronounced under the influence by a physician. The charge was filed with Justice of the Peace James D. Griest. Miller was committed to the Cumberland County jail in default of bail.

JURY RETURNS FIRST VERDICT IN FATAL CASE

An Adams County jury hearing as one trial six trespass actions growing out of a fatal automobile accident on Christmas Day, 1957, near Littlestown, late this morning brought out the first of two verdicts.

In its first deliberation the jury determined that Robert W. Yingling, Littlestown R. 1, was the driver of a car which caused the auto accident in which Lloyd E. Eller, Littlestown R. 1, and Mr. and Mrs. John M. Spangler, Hagerstown, was fatally injured, and the Spangler children and Yingling were injured.

The jury this afternoon began hearing testimony concerning injuries and damages which will lead to their final verdict who is to receive damages from whom and how much.

Court Sets Schedule

The Adams County court set up the program by which the trial was divided into two cases before the same jury in order to avoid having the jury receive all the testimony concerning the accident, damages and injuries and then to decide simultaneously all of the questions raised in the trial.

Yingling declared that Eller was the driver of the car and that Spangler was on the wrong side of the road. Mrs. Margaret R. Bailey, executrix of the estates of Mr. and Mrs. Spangler and as guardian for the four Spangler children, Rebecca A., Judith E., John M. Jr., and Sara J. Spangler, claimed the Yingling-Eller car was at fault in the crash.

The questions put to the jury and its answers this morning were as follows:

Court, Lawyers Meet

Q: "Who was driving the Yingling car?"
A: "Yingling."
Q: "Was the operator of the Yingling car negligent?"
A: "Yes."
Q: "If the operator of the Yingling car was negligent, was his negligence the approximate cause of the accident?"
A: "Yes."
Q: "Was John Spangler guilty of any negligence which contributed to the happening of this accident?"
A: "No."

CC DIRECTORS GIVE $100 FOR XMAS LIGHTS

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon meeting Monday at the Hotel Gettysburg, voted $100 for the Christmas street decorations and urged "contributions from every resident to make this year's decorations the finest and most extensive we have ever had."

Plans to entertain Baltimore businessmen visiting here next Thursday as part of the program marking the opening of the Harrisburg - York - Baltimore thoroughway were outlined.

At least two busloads of Baltimoreans are expected to arrive here about 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Chamber President Julian Estep said.

After being greeted by Chamber officials in Lincoln Square the visitors will tour the Battlefield and then return to Baltimore.

Seek Larger Airport

A packet containing Gettysburg literature including its desirability as an industrial site will be presented the Baltimoreans.

Support of a project to secure a more modern airport was discussed, but tailed until more information can be received on a proposal previously placed before the borough council.

The annual meeting will be held in November, the date and place to be announced later.

The directors discussed plans for the Civil War Centennial years and voted to try to set aside some money each year to provide such support and services as will be required during the Centennial period. Plans of the community service committee to paint debris cans on streets in the town were approved.

Breaks Shoulder In Fall On Steps

Mrs. Cora Ruffe, 76, Taneytown, was treated Monday at the Warner Hospital for a fracture of her left shoulder received when she fell on a stairway.

John Hampton, 16, Waynesboro R. 4, received treatment Monday for an injury to his left wrist suffered in a fall while horse-back riding.

ASK HELP OF TEACHERS ON WAR HISTORY

Adams County school history students will be asked to seek facts on "what happened in Adams County during the Civil War" as part of the observance of the Civil War Centennial. It was decided at a meeting of the history teachers Monday evening at the office of the county superintendent of schools, Carlisle St.

Meeting with the teachers were Arthur M. Gordon and Mrs. Della Hershey of the County Civil War Centennial Committee set up last summer by the Adams County Commissioners.

Gordon, who is heading the school participation, told the group that it is hoped that information obtained by the history classes can be used for publication; as a permanent file of reference material in the libraries of the county and as a source for a history of the Civil War period in Adams County which the Centennial Committee hopes to have published during the anniversary period.

Churches Helping

Mrs. Hershey, in outlining some of the information sought, asked the teachers to urge their students to require among parents, grandparents and senior citizens of their communities to obtain information pertaining to the Civil War in the county. Diaries, discharges, account books and recollections of information all are sought. Names of persons who saw troops moving by; recollections of those persons; information about the part played by women's groups in providing clothing, food, etc., for troops; formation of companies in Adams County, both home guard and those which went into federal service; wounded men who returned; combat recollections of soldiers; recollections of farms and homes used as hospitals, or from which troops took horses or equipment, are among information sought, she said.

Mrs. Hershey and Gordon reported the Adams County Ministerium is also supporting the Centennial program.

Rev. Dr. O. D. Coble, Bendersville, has been appointed by the ministerium, Mrs. Hershey reported, to direct a program in which all churches will be asked to participate. Each church will be invited to set up a committee to gather history of each church's participation during the war period.

The history teachers prepared a questionnaire to be given all students. Civil War topics will be assigned as themes from time to time. The plan discussed calls for the study to continue through to 1965.

County Superintendent C. P. Keefe agreed to have his office mimeograph the questionnaire to go to the students. Among the history teachers present for Monday's meeting were Floyd E. McMullen, East Berlin; Clyde L. Kennedy, York Springs; Paul E. Sponseller, Fairfield; William L. Coradetti, Biglerville; Mildred Walters, Biglerville; William Miller, New Oxford, and Richard E. Straup, Fairfield.

School Districts Get Aid From U. S.

Payments have been made by the federal government to a half dozen school districts in Adams County under Public Law 874 which provides for aid to school districts who have considerable numbers of parents employed by the federal government having pupils in the local schools. The payments are made through the U. S. Office of Education.

The payments for 1959 total $18,214 in this county, according to a report from the office of U. S. Senator Joseph S. Clark.

He lists the districts and the amounts each received as follows: Franklin Twp. School District, $4,383; Straban, $1,654; Cumberland, $1,985; Gettysburg, $3,060; Fairfield Joint School System, $2,729; and Bermudian Springs Joint School District, $4,383.

Mrs. Herman Schmid Dies This Morning

Mrs. Hermine Schmid, 87, wife of Herman Schmid, Gettysburg R. 4, died this morning at 10:50 o'clock in the Warner Hospital where she had been a patient since suffering a heart attack on October 3. The Schmidts resided north of Hunterstown for the last nine years, coming here from New York.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by three daughters: Mrs. Dorothy B. Clarke, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Julia Martin, Belair, Long Island, and Mrs. Thelma Martin, Hampstead, Long Island.

Funeral arrangements are being made by the Peters Funeral Home but are incomplete.

PROPERTY IS SOLD

NELSON WAGES UPHILL FIGHT

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York appears to be waging an uphill battle today in his bid for Midwestern support for the Republican presidential nomination.

He slammed into a wall of public indifference on his arrival here Monday for a two-day visit designed to test his chances of gaining support to challenge Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the GOP nomination.

The Midwest is considered a Nixon stronghold.

No organized support for the New York governor was apparent during the early stages of his Chicago visit. Nor were there any crowds interested in seeing the multi-millionaire governor who has been widely mentioned as a possible future president.

Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton, a Republican, met with Rockefeller but said he would remain neutral for the present in the Nixon-Rockefeller contest.

Rockefeller lined up meetings today with other Midwest political leaders and businessmen.

Will Speak On TV College Program

"The changing philosophy of grammar, as marked by the shift from the rigid doctrines of the prescriptive grammarians of two hundred years ago to the more realistic approach of today" will be traced by Jack Locher, instructor in English at Gettysburg College, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock on the "College of the Air" program over WGAL-TV, Channel 8, Lancaster.

"Using Language Correctly" will be the topic of Locher's talk, in which he will show how one can establish acceptable standards in his speaking and writing without appeal to long standing authority.

"Communicating Ideas" is the overall theme of Gettysburg College's participation in the educational series televised each Wednesday from 9-9:30 a.m. through November 11.

County Educators To Be Consultants

Three educators from the office of the Adams County superintendent of schools will participate as consultants at the second annual Schoolmen's Week program at York Thursday and Friday. Gettysburg's public school teachers will be in attendance there along with those of York County.

The county office participants and their topics will include: Assistant County Superintendent of Schools M. Francis Coulson, "Problems of the Beginning Teacher"; Miss E. Elizabeth Rutledge, supervisor of special education, "What the Teacher Has to Learn from Psychology"; and Mrs. Patricia B. Hollingsworth, speech therapist, "Improving Children's Speech."

POULTRYMEN TO MEET

A program on "The Health of the Laying Flock" will be held for Adams County poultrymen next Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the Adams Electric building, rear of N. Stratton St. Assistant County Agent Duane G. Duncan announced today. The speaker will be Dr. Wiley of Myerstown.

Show Closes On 26-Year-Old Play

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The final curtain has fallen on "The Drunkard," ending the longest run in theater history.

A champagne toast and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" climaxed the 9,477th performance at the Theater Mart Saturday. When it was over, some of the cast hardly realized the end had come.

Rising costs and the desire to sell the theater property prompted Producer Mildred Ise to close the show, which opened in 1933. "Oh well," said Neely Edwards, 76, who played the bartender in the melodrama, "they told me this job wouldn't last when I took it."

That was 26 years ago.

Governor Sees Need For Better Colleges

SHIPPENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. Lawrence declared today improvement of Pennsylvania's 14 state teachers colleges "must be accelerated and expanded."

The governor addressed the 19th annual Citizenship Day at Shippensburg State Teachers College. He said the aim of improvement of the teacher colleges is to provide the commonwealth's children with "the mature guidance they need in the world of today—and tomorrow."

TACLOBAN, The Philippines, (AP) — President Carlos P. Garcia said today the Philippines stands firmly beside the United States in fighting against communism.

Garcia spoke at ceremonies commemorating the 15th anniversary of the landing of U. S. troops on Leyte. This was the start of the Philippines liberation in World War II.

Only one mail pouch was ever lost by the Pony Express.

WIDOW ADMITS POISONING HER FIVE CHILDREN

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The despondent and bitter widow of a Peruvian diplomat admitted to police Monday night that she killed her five children by giving them a potent concoction of 74 sleeping tablets, sugar and orange juice under the pretense it was a cough medicine.

"The only regret I have is that I didn't die," 41-year-old Ruth Mae Urdanivia told authorities calmly. She also drank some of the mixture, cut her wrists and turned on gas jets in efforts to take her own life.

"They're better off now with their father," Mrs. Urdanivia added. "They won't have to live in a pig sty or eat inferior food. I'm tired, tired of begging. No one helps a widow."

Bizarre Tale

In a statement to Lehigh County Dist. Atty. Paul A. McGinley, the slender, light brown-haired widow said that she had been planning to kill the children and herself ever since her husband, Jose, 41, died of a heart attack two years ago in San Francisco while en route to a diplomatic mission in Tokyo.

"I just couldn't make ends meet," Mrs. Urdanivia told McGinley, in unfolding the bizarre tale which finally reached its climax last Wednesday.

On that morning, Mrs. Urdanivia related, she went to the home of her brother, William Strawbridge, and picked up two of her children, Luis, 9, and Carol Miriam, 4. They had been staying with their uncle and aunt since Christmas. Mrs. Urdanivia told her brother and his wife that she wanted to take the children for a physical checkup. She had been living in Allentown since the death of her husband.

That night, about 9:30, Mrs. Urdanivia continued, she took 100 sleeping tablets (nidor) and mixed them with sugar and water. She told Luis, Miriam and the other children, Christine, 12, Ruth Lucille, 10, and Anna Marie, 7, to take them for their coughs.

The children complained that it was too bitter. Mrs. Urdanivia then added orange juice.

Aware that all of the children were dead, Mrs. Urdanivia said she then broke a drinking glass and cut her wrists in an effort to end her own life.

Faces Murder Charges

When this was unsuccessful, she turned on gas jets. Later realizing the gas might harm other occupants of the apartment in which she lived, she turned the jets off, then collapsed.

McGinley said that Mrs. Urdanivia "appeared rational" in giving the long statement to authorities. He said that he will file five general murder charges against her later today when she is released from Sacred Heart Hospital. All of her children attended Sacred Heart school.

Mrs. Urdanivia, who worked in a department store and at the hospital to support her children, expressed her bitterness when she told McGinley that she had asked for assistance several times from both Peruvian and American agencies but was turned down.

First Bible printed in America was printed in the Indian language.

STEEL STRIKE DIFFERENCES

WASHINGTON (AP)—In capsule form, this is where the steel industry and the United Steelworkers stand on major issues in dispute:

WAGES AND BENEFITS

Union demands a total package which it estimates at about 20 cents an hour, over a two-year contract. Industry says the package actually would raise labor costs by 32½ cents an hour per man.

Industry offers 33 cents over three years. The union values this package at only 24 cents.

WORK RULES

Industry has offered to submit to arbitration its demand for freedom to change local work rules to promote efficiency and economy. There are thousands of such rules affecting seniority, wash-up time, size of work crews and other matters; they vary from firm to firm.

Union stands pat on old contract clause permitting changes only when new machinery is installed. It refuses arbitration, wants the question submitted to a study group.

COST OF LIVING

The union wants wage increases geared to living cost increases, but only up to 3 cents an hour. Industry wants a tighter limit on the escalation.

SOME STOCKS LIVELY

NEW YORK (AP)—Electronics and selected issues were lively and higher as blue chips wallowed in an irregular stock market early this afternoon. Turnover was moderate.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point dotted the list of key stocks which comprise the market averages. Gains of 2 or 3 points were posted by some of the "glamor" issues.

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union today claimed the United Nations debate on Tibet is an illegal interference in Chinese affairs designed to break up growing friendship between Red China and other Asian countries.

A commentary by the official Soviet news agency Tass charged that complaints about the situation in Tibet were based on "lies and slander."

U.S. Attorneys

for an injunction.

Goldberg said he will argue that the provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act which have been invoked are unconstitutional. He said he also will argue that the strike does not imperil the national health or safety within the meaning of the Taft-Hartley Act.

McDonald said the union's decision making 170-member Wage Policy Committee has been called to meet in Pittsburgh Wednesday at 10 a.m. The union's 33-member Executive Board already is in Pittsburgh.

McDonald said earlier that the union would fight an injunction proceeding "with might and main" but he added that "if it is issued, we will live up to the law of our country."

The President acted Monday only 3½ hours after receiving a special fact-finding panel's report that it had been unable to mediate the dispute and saw "no prospect for an early cessation of the strike."

The President's letter directing Rogers to seek an injunction said: "It is essential to the national interest that production be resumed immediately in the steel industry."

"Free collective bargaining has not worked in this dispute despite the dedicated efforts of the federal government and the fact-finding board of inquiry."

"In order to protect the interests of all the American people, this leaves me with no alternative except to seek an injunction under the existing law."

"A Sad Day"

"America's hopes for a voluntary responsible settlement have not been fulfilled. It is a sad day for the nation."

The steelworkers, according to government figures, were earning an average of $3.11 an hour before the strike began. In their latest proposal they sought increased wages and other benefits which they valued at 20 cents an hour under a two-year pact.

But, according to the panel, industry claimed the package would cost 32.4 cents an hour. The industry made a counter-proposal for a three-year contract with benefits, which the panel said industry estimated at 33 cents an hour.

However, the panel said, the union valued the industry offer at only 24 cents an hour.

LETTERS OF ESTATE

Letters of administration were granted recently by the Orphans' Court, Frederick, in an Emmitsburg estate.

Grace B. Valentine, a sister, was named executrix in the estate of Harry Theodore Bollinger who died at his home in Emmitsburg on October 9. Heirs were listed as the sister and a brother, Clarence W. Bollinger, both of Gettysburg, and the children of a deceased brother, R. C. Bollinger, Dorothy Bollinger of Arizona, and Jean Bowers of Quantico, Va.

Real estate was listed as approximately $8,000 in value and personal property as approximately $5,000.

Edson O. Sessions Named Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today picked Edson O. Sessions, now deputy postmaster general, to be ambassador to Finland.

Eisenhower gave Sessions, 56, a recess appointment. A formal nomination will go to the Senate when Congress reconvenes in January.

Sessions was named to succeed John D. Hickerson, recently appointed ambassador to the Philippines.

Before entering government service in 1954, Sessions was vice president of the E. O. Sessions Co. Ltd., Chicago.

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin police said today that Communist East Germans have arrested more than 30 Germans after kidnapping an Allied agent in West Berlin.

The man kidnapped last July was Karl Pawlick, 38. Police said he was working for a Western intelligence agency but would not say which one. His arrest was followed by a Red roundup of his contacts in the East, police said.

The police said they themselves arrested Pawlick's stepson, Guenter Benke, 20, and two other men. The police claim Benke got his stepfather drunk, bundled him into a rented car, and drove him into East Berlin.

JURY RETURNS

to the jury were decided upon Monday afternoon at a meeting of attorneys and the court while the jury was recessed.

When the questions had been determined the attorneys presented their arguments to the jury. This morning the court gave its charge and the jury retired at 10:17 o'clock. It returned at 11:29 with its verdict.

Most of Monday was devoted to side bar conferences.

Can't Recall Accident

Yingling, the only surviving adult in the accident, told the jury he had no recollection of the mishap. A physician said he suffered total amnesia because of the severe injuries he suffered in the accident.

Judith Spangler, who testified, was unable to give much information having paid little attention to the manner in which her father's car was operated.

There were no other witnesses.

Raymond Spangler, a brother of John Spangler, was the first motorist to arrive upon the scene. He recalled his first thought, "My God, it's my brother." He said his brother told him of lights of another car being on his side of the road and then the crash.

Court Grants Award

Other business before the court Monday included the allocation by the court of the entire $4,500 awarded by the jury last week to Melvin M. Sharrer, New Oxford R. D., as administrator of the estate of Susanna M. Sharrer in his suit against Baxter Paul Harmon, Biglerville R. 1, and Clyde H. Funt, Arendtsville.

Attorney Donald G. Oyler submitted a petition asking the allocation of the amount to Sharrer. The petition stated the three persons entitled to each receive one-third were the daughter, Mary S. Minter; the son, Melvin Sharrer Jr.; and the husband, Disclaimers for Mrs. Minter and the younger Mr. Sharrer accompanied the petition which asked that all go to the father who had paid the various expenses involved in the hospitalization, funeral, etc., of Mrs. Sharrer.

A petition for a new trial was received from Attorney Donald M. Swope representing the Guldens in the trespass action brought by Zora Mae and C. E. Gulden against Granville S. Miller, Littlestown R. 2. A jury last week made an award in favor of the Guldens but the petition in effect held the award too small.

COMPLETES COURSE

Leon G. Harbaugh, Fairfield R. 1, is one of 14 men who have completed the Dairy Herd Improvement Association supervisor training short course at Pennsylvania State University. The course, which is designed to train DHIA supervisors, included work in the testing of milk for butterfat and the keeping of records.

3 CARS CRASH AT INTERSECTION

Damage totaled $900 and two persons received minor injuries when three cars collided Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Cross Keys intersection.

State police said Herman Cordell, 42, of Hanover, was traveling north on the Hanover-Carlisle Rd., stopped at the intersection and then attempted to cross the Lincoln Highway. His car struck a sedan being operated west on the Stough, 68, New Oxford, and the Stough car, after the impact, struck an auto operated by Eugene Eline, McSherrytown, which had stopped on the north side of the intersection. Damage was estimated at $300 to each vehicle.

Stough suffered bruises of the knees. A passenger in his car, Robert Hart, 72, McSherrytown, had a bruised forehead. Neither sought immediate medical attention.

Cordell paid a fine and costs before Justice of the Peace Elizabeth Zinn on a charge of failing to yield the right of way brought by state police as a result of the accident.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The only U.S. senator of Asian descent today said the United States must defend Nationalist China's offshore islands.

"We must stand firm," said Sen. Hiram L. Fong (R-Hawaii), "on the lines now drawn—the 38th parallel in Korea and the offshore islands in the Formosa Strait."

"We cannot afford to let the offshore islands fall into the hands of the Communists."

Fong is making a tour of Asian and Pacific countries. He left today for Manila after a four-day stay on Formosa.

Three Emmitsburg Residents Fined

Three Emmitsburg property-owners received fines of $300 each at a hearing recently before Magistrate Richard J. McCullough, Emmitsburg. The three were fined for not complying with a local ordinance making it mandatory to hook onto the sewer line.

The town council had set a deadline of October 1 for property-owners to comply with the ordinance. Warrants were signed by Sewer Commissioner J. Norman Flax and the three were arraigned for hearing.

McCullough held the fine in abeyance until October 31, giving the violators sufficient time in which to have the work completed. All promised to meet the deadline. Council has intimated that there are a number of other violators not complying with the ordinance which requires all property-owners to tap into the old WPA sewer line which has been in operation for 30 years.

Council disclosed that it recently was toying with the idea of having a city-operated garbage collection system.

POLICEMAN IS SHOT TO DEATH

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A policeman was shot and killed Monday night in a scuffle with a woman described as his girl friend.

Spencer Thomas, 29, was dead when taken to Misericordia Hospital with a bullet wound of the head.

The woman involved was Miss Dorothy Knight, 34, who was held on a homicide charge.

Police said Miss Knight told them she had broken off with Thomas when she learned he was married and the father of two young children. She said he came to her West Philadelphia apartment Monday night in civilian clothes and drew his revolver during a heated argument.

Miss Knight told police she grappled with Thomas and twisted the gun in his hand until it discharged. The bullet struck Thomas in the cheek and lodged in his head.

Thomas' widow, Pocata, 27, is a Korean War bride. He met her while serving in the Far East and returned to Korea to be married after his discharge. Their children are three and five.

Staub Joins Club

Ronald "Pete" Staub, assistant director of public information at Gettysburg College, was introduced as a new member of the club. Preliminary reports were given on results of the Charity fund benefit football game last week and more complete reports will follow.

$100 For Xmas Decorations

The Lions voted $100 from the club's general fund for the town's Christmas street decorations after it was announced the board of directors of the club had ruled last week that it would not be a proper expenditure from the Charity fund. The money goes to the Retail Merchants Association.

The Rev. Charles E. Held, chairman of the county United Nations Day observance committee, announced plans for a public observance of U.N. Day next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Christ Chapel on the college campus when Congressman James Quigley will speak.

The Rev. Mr. Korte was introduced by the program chairman, M. Hardy Nichols.

A meeting of the club's board of directors followed the meeting.

Littlestown Car In Crash Sunday

Miss Bonita Weller, 16, of Greencastle R. 3, is to be charged with reckless driving as the result of a two-car collision on Route 16, two and a half miles east of Greencastle, Sunday at 4:45 p.m., state police said. Miss Weller was operating on a learner's permit, police noted.

Traveling west, the Weller car collided with the rear of the car of Francis J. Smith, 39, Littlestown R. 1, as Smith slowed his vehicle preparatory to making a right turn off the highway.

Damage to the Weller car was set at $75 and to the Smith car at $50.

Hope For Safety Of Three Miners Dims

SILVERPEAK, Nev. (AP) — Only the faintest hopes remain that three miners trapped in a cave-in at the Mohawk silver mine are still alive.

Rescue crews cleared two shafts to the 300-foot level, where the men were working when the cave-in occurred Friday. They found the shaft blocked at both ends.

The trapped men are Bill DeLorme, Redding, Calif.; James Robinson, Mina, Nev., and Sam Sikes, of nearby Tonopah, Nev.

ELKTON, Md. (AP)—An application for a marriage license at the courthouse went smoothly until the clerk, George Ellery, asked the prospective bridegroom:

"Now, will you raise your right hand and swear that the information in this license application is true?"

"I won't swear," replied Robert K. Worrell of Moorestown, N.J., "until she gets that gun out of her bag."

That touched off a commotion and Sheriff Edgar Startt wound up arresting Angeline Sailer, 47, of Burlington, N.J.

Threatened Murder

The reluctant bridegroom, a 68-year-old retired seaman, told the sheriff Mrs. Sailer had come to his house with a gun Monday and forced him to accompany her to Elkton to get married.

"You're going to marry me or I'm going to kill you," he quoted her.

This city in northeastern Maryland is famed for its quickie marriages but state law now requires a three-day waiting period.

Mrs. Sailer was held in $500 bond on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. The sheriff found a .38 revolver wrapped in a fur piece in her car.

Another man with her, Alexa Jalmar Olson, 55, of Ocean City, N.J., was held for investigation.

Worrell told Sheriff Startt he had been going with Mrs. Sailer off and on for about 10 years but had said nothing about marriage.

Six Grandsons Are Pallbearers

Funeral services for Peter M. Shetter, 85, who died at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heller, Biglerville, Sunday morning, were held from the Dugan Funeral Home, Bendersville, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Laverne Rohrbough, officiating. Interment was in the Biglerville Cemetery.

Six grandsons served as pallbearers: Donald Shetter, Gerald Heller, Marshall Heller, Clark Heller, Charles Bream, and Clair Bream.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Littlestown Man Invents Airship: Rev. W. D. Lefevre, of Dover, Delaware, and his brother, Enoch S. Lefevre, of Littlestown, have secured a patent for an airship. The machine has a vertical mast fastened to the bottom. Near the upper end of the mast are stationary aeroplanes with controllable slats that can be thrown open when the craft is to descend and closed when going forward or ascending. Underneath the stationary planes are eight vertically lifting propellers. Four revolve like large fans around the central mast in one direction discharging air underneath each other. This affords each plane a stronger body of air to float upon than the air it gathers in itself. It is stated that the eight revolving planes have more lifting surface than any of the airships now in existence.

Barlow: Jack Frost has made a decisive blow upon all nature in this vicinity. He is causing the leaves to fall from the trees rapidly. In the morning when the farmers go early to corn fields to husk corn he is there biting and stinging their fingers.

There were not very many present at Sunday School at Mt. Joy on Sunday owing to the fact that there was no church service. Usually when there is no church service the people take a day off and go visiting.

The following spent Saturday and Sunday at Freedom, Md.: Misses Dorothy Sharetts, Emma Marling, Elsie Smith and Messrs. Paul Reaver, Mervin Benner and Harry Wolf.

Miss May Bell Mills attended Puhena Literary Society of Gettysburg College on Friday evening.

Big Pay Roll: The Musselman Canning Company of Biglerville for two weeks had a pay roll totaling over $900. This is for labor alone. The plant has been a busy place for a number of weeks canning apples, making cider and other products.

Sprayed Fruit In Demand: The beneficial effects of spraying were never so apparent as during the present year. The spraying of apple trees has had a marked effect in this county as well as in all parts of the state which were seriously affected by this season's drought.

As a result Pennsylvania is now being overrun with fruit buyers. They know, notwithstanding the general drought, there is much fine fruit here. However, each one asks before he buys whether the fruit has been sprayed. He knows that if it has not been the fruit will spoil sooner either because it has not reached the same perfection as the sprayed variety or is more liable to be wormy or affected by other fruit diseases.

Another Early Morning Blaze: Another fire of mysterious origin occurred in Gettysburg early Sunday morning when the large double barn of J. A. Tawney in the rear of his tenant houses on W. Middle St. was totally destroyed by fire. The loss of the building amounts to several hundred dollars, partly covered by insurance. The hay, which belonged to Frank J. Deardoff, is a total loss of about $100.

The fire started in the hay mow and had gotten a good start when discovered. Officer O'Riley rang the bells and the firemen responded promptly. The blowing of whistles served to arouse the remainder of the citizens and a big crowd gathered at the scene. The structure was a veritable mass of flames by the time the first stream was gotten on it and it was soon seen that nothing could be saved there. Efforts were then put forth to save the stable of Jacob Gilbert which is located next to that of Mr. Tawney. In this the firemen were successful notwithstanding the fact that the building was on fire a number of times.

Today's Talk

MR. AND MRS. WORRY

There are two people whom I solemnly warn you against. They are Mr. and Mrs. Worry. They work so silently and at times so deceptively that I can't understand how they ever got into this beautiful world. If the moon wishes for some people who are of no earthly use, I would suggest that Mr. and Mrs. Worry be among the first to migrate to that golden circle in the sky. It is such an appropriate place for the two figures who have done so much evil and created so many heartaches in the world.

I would even be willingly glad to pay double my income to that pair far, far out of this lovely planet. Where did they come from anyway? Who sponsored them? Whoever did should share their misery! Meanwhile, let us make it as uncomfortable as possible for these two enemies of the human race.

Whatever is done with the two should be done quickly and decisively soon. I have never done a good deed for them. I hope I never will. You help — with me! I wish Mr. K. had taken them with him. Perhaps he did anyway! All glory if he did. We have no room for these two. What a happy riddance if ever accomplished!

May Mr. and Mrs. Worry be banished from our honest hills, silvery streams and brave mountains, and be made to work their own way to the moon, or to any unhappy star! Who will be the hero to abolish this unholy pair from all the land, here and now?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Tune Yourself for Larger Things"

Just Folks

THE LIMIT OF EXPECTATION

The fullback has a broken leg, The quarterback, a muscle torn; For weeks the tackle 'round his head A plaster paris cast was torn The center hobbles 'round in pain, A bone bruise decorates his shin; They're slightly crippled, it is true, But still we think they ought to win.

Our left end's walking on a crutch, Three broken ribs the right end owns; There's not a muscle that's intact And snug upon the halfback's bones.

The doctor now is working on A brace to fit the right end's chin; They're slightly crippled, that is true, But still we think they ought to win.

We know our fast men cannot run, They'll have to hobble down the field, And every man upon the line Has injuries that haven't healed.

We don't expect a heavy score, For perfect shape the foe is in; But still, of course, we do expect Our bungled up football team to win.

Couple Observes 50th Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. STAVELY

Mr. and Mrs. John M. (Bupp) Stavelly recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

A dinner was given in their honor by their son, Howard, Spring Grove, where they received many flowers, cards and gifts from well-wishers.

Mrs. Stavelly is the son of the late Jacob and Sarah Blocher Stavelly. Mrs. Stavelly is the daughter of the late Solomon and Annie Hofe Bupp.

The couple was born and lived in Mt. Pleasant Twp. all their lives. Mr. Stavelly is a retired farmer. They are guests at the Kuhn Convalescent Home, New Oxford.

They were married October 3, 1909, by the late Dr. F. S. Line-man in the Reformed Church, Littlestown.

Mr. and Mrs. Stavelly are the parents of three children: Howard C. Stavelly, Spring Grove; Mrs. Thomas Weaver, Littlestown, and a son, Paul, deceased. They have five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

27 ARE HURT IN TRAIN CRASH

NORWALK, Conn. (AP)—A New Haven Railroad engine smashed into a disabled, self-propelled commuter car here today. Twenty seven persons were hurt, none seriously.

The collision occurred shortly before 7 a.m. a few hundred feet west of the nearby Rowayton Station, a commuter stop.

The railroad said that the single unit commuter car became disabled at the station.

An engine from a nearby freight train was dispatched to pull the car.

The railroad spokesman said the freight engine smashed into the commuter car with considerable force.

The railroad said it expected only minor delays in commuter service to New York, about 45 miles away.

Most of the line's New York commuter trains originate at Stamford, some 14 miles below here in Fairfield County.

SOUTH PACIFIC TO SHOW HERE

Rodgers and Hammerstein's Pulitzer prize-winning musical, "South Pacific," will have its De Luxe Color motion picture premiere at the Majestic Theatre on Wednesday and continue for a week.

About 90 per cent of "South Pacific" was shot on one of the picturesque spots in the Pacific—Kauai—known as the "Garden Island Of The Hawaiians"; the remainder was completed on the Twentieth Century-Fox lots in Hollywood.

The screen version was directed by Joshua Logan, who also directed the original stage production which opened on Broadway in 1949 and ran for almost five years.

The same creative team, responsible for "South Pacific's" theatre production, brought it to the screen under Buddy Adler's guidance. . . . Richard Rodgers, Oscar Hammerstein II and Joshua Logan. The now-famous music and lyrics, introduced ten years ago, sound as fresh as ever on the screen.

"South Pacific," adapted from James Michener's best-selling novel, "Tales Of The South Pacific," is the love story of a U.S. Navy nurse, played by Mitzi Gaynor, during World War II, who falls in love with a French plantation owner, portrayed by Rossano Brazzi, on a Pacific Island. A concurrent love story concerns a Marine officer (John Kerr) and a native girl, played by France Nuyen (who was specially picked for the role because of her Eurasian background and beauty).

"Great Musical"

Critics have acclaimed "South Pacific" as one of the great musicals of all time. Much of "South Pacific's" romantic flavor was suggested by mood and conversation on the stage. Bali-Hai, the enchanted island, for example, and the boat's tooth tribal ceremony are shown on the screen with all the color and authenticity of actual location shots.

The film version of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific" had a shooting schedule of 73 days, 44 of them on the Island of Kauai; 40 of them on the Twentieth Century-Fox film lot. This schedule included three days of pre-principal photography shooting of landings and other Navy maneuvers. Aerial montage shots of scenic backgrounds of actual New Hebrides locations were filmed from planes by Academy Award-winning photographer, Leon Shamroy.

Critic Jumps On Tire Instructor

CLINTON, Mo. (AP)—Carl Sexton, driver educator instructor in the Clinton schools, took two boys and two girls out for a lesson in changing tires.

They stopped in a residential section when it was one of the girl's turn to change a tire.

While the girl toiled, there came an indignant woman's voice from a nearby house:

"It seems to me that you men could at least help that girl instead of just standing around."

LONG STRIKE EXPECTED TO STIR CONGRESS

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two influential senators today predicted Congress may act on national emergency legislation if the steel strike is not settled by next January.

Sens. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, and Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), spoke of the possibility.

Mansfield said in an interview that if steel workers go back on the job under an injunction and the walk out at the end of an 80-day cooling off period, Congress is almost certain to act quickly after it returns in January.

Promise New Walkout President Eisenhower Monday ordered the Justice Department to seek a court injunction under the Taft-Hartley Act to halt the strike for 80 days. The steelworkers have said they would obey such an injunction if one is issued, but would walk out again at the end of the 80 days.

"I would think there would be consideration of legislation creating special labor courts which could act to ward off any strike that threatens the national security," Mansfield said. "It might be that the procedures of the Railway Labor Act for arbitration and conciliation could be brought into play for any basic industry such as steel."

Need New Study Keating told an audience in Utica, N.Y., Monday night that in any event Congress is going to have to "take a long, hard look at the emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act to determine whether additional means need to be provided to end strikes which threaten the national welfare and security."

WIFE SHOCKED MATE QUIT U.S. FOR RED LIFE

ZELIENOPLE, Pa. (AP)—Friends and relatives of Robert Webster searched for an answer today as to why the 30-year-old plastics specialist renounced his American citizenship for the Soviet way of life.

Webster's wife, Martha, seemed unable to cope with the situation at first. All she could say Monday was that she was shocked. Then she took her two children and went into a self-imposed seclusion. Mrs. Webster had come to Zelenople from the family's Cleveland residence two weeks ago.

"There is just no feeling for us at all," said Webster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Webster of Zelenople. Both were emotionally choked.

Webster appeared at the U. S. embassy in Moscow last Saturday. He handed a signed statement to Consul Gen. Richard Snyder renouncing his American citizenship. He said he had been granted Soviet citizenship several weeks ago.

Webster went to Russia last summer to work at the American exhibition in Moscow as an employee of the Rand Development Corp., a plastics firm in Cleveland.

"At first he wrote regularly to us, but then in late July the letters stopped," said Webster's father. "Then, when the rest of the company personnel came home two weeks ago—without Robert—we knew something was wrong. The others said our boy had taken a tour of Russia. We continued in vain trying to reach him. And now this."

Rupert King, a fellow employee of Webster in Moscow, said Webster "had a girl friend of whom he saw a lot." King conjectured that this might have been one of the "reasons he deserted his country."

16 Seek College Cage Berths; One Letterman Returns; Lack Height

Sixteen candidates answered the first call for basketball practice made last week by Gettysburg College's head mentor, Bob Hulton. Hulton indicated that the maximum number have reported and that he will not have to wait until the end of football season to acquire the rest.

The squad will begin the hard, tough task of preparing for their season's opener at Albright on December 2. Two new teams have been added to the Bulletin schedule giving them 26 games for the year. Rider College will be met on the York Junior College court in the second half of a twin bill December 3, and the Bullets will face St. Joseph's in the Penn. Palestra, Philadelphia, on December 9.

Among the top candidates who reported are John Warner, York, 5-11, forward, the only returning letterman; Bill Fitzkee, 6-3, junior center from Mount Wolf; Bill Hemming, Wayne, Pa., 6-3, forward; John Bauer, Harrisburg, 6-2 guard, and Ken Kamis, Harrisburg, 5-9, senior guard.

Promising Freshmen
Hulton will also have five excellent sharpshooters up from last year's freshman squad. Ron Warner, York, 5-11 guard who averaged 28 points per game last season, and Bob Parker, Yeadon, 5-9 guard who came in second with 22 tallies per contest are the leading candidates. Other sophomores trying out are Bruce Simpson, Sunbury, 6-3, forward; George Burnett, Salisbury, Md., 6-2, forward, and John Fleming, Havertown, 6-4, center.

Hulton said, "We are rebuilding this year with a young, fast team. We will have to rely heavily on sophomores and returning juniors without much game experience. The sophomore crop, despite lack of size, is the best in recent years."

Have Good Speed
"We will be very much lacking in size and experience, as the entire starting team from last season graduated. But we have excellent speed and shooting ability, especially in sophomores Bob Parker and Ron Warner."

The schedule:
December 2, Albright, away; 3, Rider, York; 5, Temple, home; 7, Villanova, home; 9, St. Joseph's away (Palestra); 12, Bucknell, away; 14, Muhlenberg, home; 17, Johns Hopkins, away.

January 6, Navy, away; 9, Lehigh, home; 12, Dickinson, away; 14, Delaware, away; 16, Scranton, home; 30, Bucknell, home.

February 3, Lehigh, away; 6, Penn State, away; 10, Franklin and Marshall, away; 12, Wagner, home; 13, Lebanon Valley, away; 16, Dickinson, home; 17, Juniata, away; 20, Lafayette, home; 24, Elizabethtown, away; 27, Hofstra, away.

March 1, Franklin and Marshall, home; 3, Muhlenberg, away.

Nancy Koons will be leader for the next meeting on Sunday at 7 p.m.

Fifty members were present at the meeting of St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Sunday. The church was decorated for a Halloween party for members and their guests at the meeting of the young people on Sunday evening. Everyone is requested to attend the party in costume on Friday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock in the church grove hall. There will be prizes for costumes, dancing, games and refreshments. Linda Ealy will be in charge of Susan Reaver, Linda Strevig, Richard Mackley and Larry Bair; refreshment committee, Brenda Barnes, Bonnie Greene, Jane Wanz and Mrs. George Trump.

A film entitled "With This Ring" was shown at the meeting and group discussion followed.

Final Block Against Dodger Park Erased

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The world champion Los Angeles Dodgers have cleared the last legal barrier against construction of their baseball stadium in Chavez Ravine.

The U.S. Supreme Court dismissed without comment Monday the appeals of two taxpayers that would have blocked the city of Los Angeles from turning over the site to the Dodgers.

Work on grading the site started last month after the California Supreme Court upheld the transaction. Dodger owner Walter O'Malley must negotiate with the Los Angeles Coliseum Commission, however, for use of the big stadium for baseball in 1960.

SENATORS NOT GOING TO MOVE WEST IN 1960

By GEOFFREY GOULD
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators won't move to Minneapolis this year.

Club owner Calvin Griffith announced Monday night his decision to remain in the capital, where the Senators have been since 1901.

His reason: He found out that some American League club owners refused to go along with the move. It would only take three no votes to blackball the transfer.

Door Still Open
Griffith did a tightrope act last year too about moving to Minneapolis. The Minnesota city has been trying to attract the Senators for several years, and has offered sizable guarantees.

Griffith said he agreed with his advisors that the latest Minneapolis offer "is for the best interests of all stockholders" of the club. Thus he seemed to be leaving the door open for another try next year to shift the franchise.

Minneapolis, Griffith said, offered a minimum net profit of $430,000 a year for five years, a total of $2,150,000. The last-place Senators drew 615,000 fans here in 1958. Griffith said the club lost money.

Had Buyer
Griffith had lawyer C. Leo DeOrsey review the Minneapolis offer. DeOrsey's recommendation was to either sell the club or, if he intended to remain in baseball, accept the Minneapolis bid with certain amendments.

Griffith said in a statement: "I. My stock is not for sale. 2. I have every intention to remain in baseball." He is the majority stockholder. DeOrsey himself reportedly wanted to buy the stock if Griffith sold out.

VAN DOREN IS GIVEN GREETING

NEW YORK (AP) — "We're with Charlie," proclaimed a sign hung by a group of students on the Columbia University campus Monday as English instructor Charles Van Doren returned to his class after a week's absence.

Some of the students chanted "We Like Van" to greet Van Doren, who won $129,000 on a television quiz show and is scheduled for an appearance before a congressional committee.

The National Broadcasting Co. suspended Van Doren from his $50,000-a-year consultant job Oct. 8 after a congressional committee turned up evidence that some TV quiz shows were fixed.

Van Doren, who has said he knew of no rigging on "Twenty-one," the show on which he won his money, took a week's leave from Columbia to "gather my thoughts."

He accepted a subpoena last Wednesday to appear Nov. 2 in Washington before the committee.

Van Doren, 33, did not discuss any of this with his students Monday.

Von Braun Fears Russians Will Pass U.S. In Space Race

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Werner von Braun said today that unless America steps up its pace in the space race "I suspect we will have to pass Russian customs when we finally reach the moon."

Von Braun, chief scientist at the Army's Ballistic Missile Agency at Huntsville, Ala., predicted further: "We may expect to hear a Russian accented voice coming from an artificial inhabited satellite roaming our American skies."

He spoke at a breakfast meeting of the National Assn. of Food Chains.

"I do not believe the American people will accept second place. Yet it is painfully clear that we are behind. It is just as clear that the other fellow is building up a momentum that will enable him to carry out even more astonishing experiments shortly," he said.

"Stability And Confidence"
Von Braun said he is convinced that "it would definitely speed up

SCOTT EARNS SHOT AT TITLE WITH TKO WIN

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Charley Scott, a Johnny-come-lately to welterweight ranking, is ready for champion Don Jordan, but the big question is whether Jordan is ready for Scott.

The second-ranked Scott, who was ready to give up boxing a year or so ago, earned a shot at the title here Monday night with a technical knockout victory over Garnet (Sugar) Hart, Scott got the job done in 28 seconds of the ninth round of a scheduled 12 rounder.

Promoter Herman Taylor twice has telegraphed a $75,000 offer to Don Nesselth, manager of Jordan. He has yet to get an answer. Al Klein, of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission, says he'll plead Scott's case before a Nov. 7 meeting of the National Boxing Association's executive committee.

Sensational Fight
The battle at Convention Hall here Monday night was sensational to say the least. The two bitter North Philadelphia rivals slammed each other with every punch in the book. A disappointing crowd of 4,930—a gross gate of $23,340—screamed with delight from the opening bell.

Hart, 146½, the No. 1 welterweight challenger, came out in the first round bent on settling an old score—a knockdown by Scott in a local gym three years ago.

Apparently that was it for Hart. Scott, who weighed 146, had taken his best and was still around to talk about it. Although the 22-year-old Hart kept battling, Scott was the master the rest of the way. He forced Hart to fight inside where the long right hand that kayoed 21 of 2 victims was least effective.

Olson-Moore Clash Is Set For January

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bobo Olson, 31 and a light heavyweight now, wants another crack at Archie Moore's world title. Billy Newman, Olson's manager, says the two veterans will meet in a title bout at the Cow Palace here in January.

Newman says he'll ask the California Athletic Commission to sanction the fight when the commission meets in San Francisco Oct. 28.

When Olson, then world middleweight champ, met Moore in New York in 1955, Archie won by a knockout in three rounds.

Moore, whose age is somewhere between 42 and 46, holds the all-time record for kayos with 128.

Olson, on the comeback trail for the second time, has won five in a row. Four were knockouts over unranked opponents. The other was a close decision over Rory Calhoun.

Althea Gibson Joins Pro Ranks

NEW YORK (AP) — Althea Gibson will play for cash instead of cups henceforth.

The Harlem tennis ace Monday signed a professional contract calling for close to $100,000.

Making a simultaneous debut with the former Wimbledon and U.S. champion is Karol Fageros, the "golden girl" from Miami, Fla., who will get $30,000 for opposing Miss Gibson in some 50 appearances.

The first match will be held at Albany, N. Y., Dec. 29, as a preliminary to a Globetrotter game. The net contests will last from 40 minutes to an hour.

Bullet Soccermen Bow Monday 4-1

The Gettysburg College soccer team suffered its second straight defeat here Monday afternoon when it bowed to Washington College 4-1.

The Bullets, now 1-2-1, next meet Bucknell here on Saturday.

Nittany Lions See Film On Illinois

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — The Penn State football team went to the movies Monday night—but not for entertainment.

The Lions watched films of the Illinois-Minnesota game last Saturday. The Illini, one of the Big 10 powerhouses this year, pose a threat to state's unbeaten record when the two meet Saturday at Cleveland, Ohio.

Coach Rip Engle brought out the films after running his team through Illinois' plays in a light workout.

End Henry Opperman and half-back Jim Kerr, who suffered slight injuries, were the only casualties in last Saturday's game with Holy Cross.

SCOT FIGHTER IS HAMPERED BUT HOPEFUL

LONDON (AP) — Bobby Neill has fought against long odds ever since he was left crippled and unconscious in a road crash nine years ago.

So the news that he's a 3-1 underdog in tonight's non title fight against world featherweight champion Davey Moore at Wembley Stadium doesn't perturb him one bit. Neill steps into the ring for the 10 - rounder as British featherweight champion.

"Doctors told me I would never fight again after that crash in 1950," the quiet Scot said. "I lay in a plaster cast for 18 months."

Recovered Anyway

"But I recovered and fought again."

Neill, 26, boxing with one leg shorter than the other by about three quarters of an inch because of an accident, is a hard brawler who tries to soften his opponent with two-fisted punching. He's won 26 of his 29 fights.

Moore, from Springfield, Ohio, and his manager, Willie Ketchum, have promised Neill a crack at the title if the Scotsman pulls off an upset.

RUSSIA ENTERS $100,000 RACE

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — The determined Russians are coming back for another crack at victory in an International horse race.

Gregori Volkov, agricultural counselor of the Russian embassy in Washington, informed Laurel race course today it again will send a pair of entries in the $100,000 Washington, D. C., International on Nov. 11.

The 4-year-old Russian thoroughbreds selected for the eighth running of the mile and half grass race are Garnir and Flang, bringing the prospective field to 11 from seven nations. Garnir ran sixth in last year's race. His running mate, Zaryad, was 10th and last.

That was the first appearance of Russian bred beyond the Iron Curtain. Zaryad delayed the start for five minutes by repeatedly jumping the flag in the walk up start.

Afterward, jockey Viktor Kovalev heatedly claimed that an assistant starter held Zaryad's reins. Zaryad was left 10 lengths behind and never caught up.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Jayber, a chestnut gelding owned by Henry C. Baldwin III, West Chester, Pa., Monday night won the ski-hi jump at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show, clearing the bar at 6 feet 6 inches.

Baldwin, who did his own riding, picked up a check for $250.

But he declined an opportunity for a standing prize of $5,000 for any horse besting the American Horse Shows Assn. official record of 8 feet, 13-16th inches.

NFL EAGER TO EXPAND BY NEXT YEAR

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Football League is so eager to expand by 1960 that it will even change its by-laws to suit the purpose.

George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears and chairman of the NFL expansion committee, Monday announced plans to boost the league from 12 to 14 teams by next fall.

"We know we can't get a unanimous vote to expand in our January meeting," said Halas. "Therefore, we will change the bylaws that stipulate this and we know we can get the 10 required votes to do this."

Marshall Opposed

Holding back unanimous approval for expansion is George Preston Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins. Marshall said in Washington "expansion is impractical, hasty, and definitely would hurt college football."

Halas said that he and Acting Commissioner Austin H. Gusele held separate polls and learned that 11 of 12 owners are in favor of immediate expansion. Halas said the owners also favored considering expansion to 16 teams by 1961 or 1962.

Dallas and Houston are the cities being wooed. Houston, however, must come up with a new stadium. If not, the franchise will go elsewhere, probably to Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Clash With New Loop

Halas went so far as to introduce the prospective owners of the proposed Dallas franchise at his press conference Monday. They are oilman Clint Murchison Jr. and attorney Bedford Wynne. Halas also revealed the man behind Houston interests is Craig Cullinan who deals in oil investments.

The NFL's plan to move immediately into Dallas and Houston clash with those of the American Football League which plans to begin operations next year with the two Texas cities as key bases.

Lamar Hunt, Dallas oilman who is organizing the new league, said the NFL's plans do not "change our plans in the least."

In a report from Dallas, Hunt said "the NFL is making a serious mistake in bringing a club here—the competition is likely to cause both to lose money whereas one club here could operate profitably."

Hunt called the NFL's proposed move "sabotage."

MOUNTS PLAY SOCCER TIE

Mt. St. Mary's and Roanoke battled to scoreless double overtime soccer tie at Emmitsburg Monday afternoon.

The game was featured by the brilliant defensive play of Harry Clegg, Roanoke, who was the Mason-Dixon Conference goalie last year. He made a total of 23 saves.

The Mountaineers, 2-4-1, will meet Washington College at Emmitsburg in another conference game Wednesday.

The lineups:
Roanoke: Clegg, G. Gunn, Choi, RF, Tazelosky, Sullivan, LF, Grace, Ridland, RH, Donovan, Kerr, CH, Segrell, Cantrell, LH, Szalay, Larson, OR, Halm, Testa, IR, Kuhn, Snoenleder, CF, Williams, Colligan, IL, Brown, Kaminsky, OL, Blandford.

MONOPOLY IN STEEL CITED

WASHINGTON (AP) — Luria Bros. & Co. is developing a "dangerous monopoly" in scrap steel, the Senate Small Business Committee says. It wants the Justice Department to investigate possible antitrust violations.

The committee's majority report was filed Monday by Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.). It accused Luria Bros. of trying to freeze out its competitors, all small business concerns.

Sen. Andrew F. Schoepel (R-Kan.) disputed this view in a minority report. Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) concurred in the request for a "factual inquiry," but said the attorney general should use his judgment on bringing any antitrust action against Luria. Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) and Alan Bible (D-Nev.) took no position on the majority report.

The majority also called for an investigation of the Institute of Scrap Iron & Steel, contending Luria controls its policies.

The institute denied Luria dominates it. Executive Vice President Edwin C. Barringer said the voting board of the institute has men from 40 different companies, each with a single vote.

Luria does a half-billion-dollar-a-year business in Pennsylvania and elsewhere, the majority report said, including half the nation's scrap export and nearly 40 per cent of the domestic business.

Spiders Oppose Biglerville In Final Wednesday

The Gettysburg Spiders will ring down the curtain on their four-game schedule Wednesday afternoon when they meet Biglerville here at 3:30.

Biglerville came here with a 3-1 record and will also close its season with the game. The locals have a tie and two losses on their record.

TOP 3 REMAIN IN SAME ORDER ON GRID POLL

By ED CORRIGAN

Powerful Louisiana State held its so far unshakable position atop the nation's college football teams today for the 14th consecutive week.

The Bengals from the Bayou compiled a whopping 1,238 votes from the sports writers and sportscasters voting in the weekly Associated Press poll. LSU has been in first place since early last season.

Coach Paul Dietzel's club drew 68 of the 144 first place votes—almost as many as the other schools combined.

Squeaker For LSU

The points are tallied on the basis of 10 for first place, 9 for second and so on down the line.

Louisiana State barely beat Kentucky, 9-0, last Saturday, but the voters still gave the Tigers a comfortable margin over second-place Northwestern, which collected 1,171 points.

The Wildcats turned back Michigan, 20-7, last Saturday. They managed 23 first place votes in holding down their second place spot.

Others In Top Ten

Texas completed the big three—the same order as a week ago—by drawing 1,010 points. The Longhorns, who edged Arkansas, 13-12, in their last effort, were the only other team to crack the 1,000 mark.

Rounding out the top 10 were Mississippi, Southern California, Syracuse, Auburn, Penn State, Georgia Tech and Arkansas in that order.

Both Auburn and Arkansas are newcomers to the charmed circle. The Plainsmen jumped to seventh from 11th by virtue of their 7-6 triumph over Georgia Tech, while Arkansas, despite the defeat by Texas, advanced to tenth from 12th.

The Top Twenty

The top ten, points based on 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second, etc. (first place votes in parentheses):

1. Louisiana State (6)	1,238
2. Northwestern (23)	1,171
3. Texas (1)	1,010
4. Mississippi (18)	989
5. Southern California (12)	768
6. Syracuse (4)	673
7. Auburn (5)	462
8. Penn State (3)	313
9. Georgia Tech (12)	280
10. Arkansas (1)	213
The second ten:
11. Oregon (1)	192
12. Wisconsin	170
13. Illinois	111
14. Purdue	97
15. Iowa	68
16. Texas Christian	66
17. Clemson	60
18. Oklahoma	56
19. Yale (1)	52
20. Ohio State	43

CASTRO AGAIN RAPS YANKEES

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro declared Monday night that the threat of economic strangulation from abroad is the least of Cuba's worries.

Striking again at one of his favorite targets, the United States, Castro said that if America reduces its Cuban sugar purchases, "this nation will seek other foreign markets."

In a speech to the Cuban bank workers union Castro also: Complained of U. S. opposition to his buying jet fighters from Britain;

Reopened his attacks on sections of the foreign and domestic press;

Once again cited the possibility of being assassinated.

Castro said that if he is killed, there are good reserves to take over the government. He mentioned his brother Raul, sworn in earlier in the day as head of the new Ministry of Armed Forces, and Ernesto Guevara, a leader of the extreme leftist, anti-American wing of Castro's movement.

The speech contrasted sharply with the warm welcome Castro gave earlier to the American Society of Travel Agents, holding its annual convention here. He urged the group to forget political propaganda and go all out to promote tourism in Cuba.

Automobile Page

Shakespeare might have said there would be a lot smoother going along the automotive road if more drivers were better strangers.

As wet leaves fall and road surfaces tend to become unexpectedly slippery it is a good time to realize that there are certain kinds of cause of many fall and winter accidents.

Every driver has been introduced to the simple skid which occurs when the tires fail to get complete traction during braking, and the car slides. He also knows what happens when brakes are applied to suddenly and the car for one reason or another tries to slide around until its rear is ahead of its front. But how many take into consideration the skid that results from too sudden change in the car's direction of travel? Power and steering skids have become more insidious now that so many cars are more powerful and steering so much easier. In addition we have the speed skid.

Sixth is the skid that results when the front tires can't get traction for a turn in the road. No matter how much the driver cuts the front wheels the car goes straight ahead and off the road.

Proof of the Pudding

Over the years many motorists have found that excessive primary current often results in shortening breaker point life, so it is interesting to see one of the leading car makers making a change in wiring in order to check this sort of trouble. The trick is accomplished in production by simply increasing resistance through lengthening the wire in the primary ignition harness. On cars already in service a special resistor type wire can be installed. Incidentally this premature burning of breaker points is indicated by a low speed miss when the car is accelerated moderately.

That accelerator pedal has become much more important than ever as a result of being hooked up with the automatic transmission (except full torque converters) and has so much to do with what are known as "shift points." Keep the pedal free. It is apt to rub against the toeboard or bind, or be restricted by the floor carpeting. Its return spring must be free and of sufficient tension.

Trouble with the pedal is most likely at the extremes of its movement. Thus there may be too fast engine idling and a lot of annoying creeping when the pedal is "up." In addition, there may be failure of the transmission to move into the passing gear when the pedal is kicked to the floor.

Mechanic Joe Speaking: "Flooding of the carburetor on some cars when the engine is switched off is found to be due to the acceleration pump. A fairly simple trick will often check this condition which naturally makes re-starting the engine difficult."

"By drilling a small hole from the accelerator pump chamber into the main float chamber of the carburetor the former is vented into the latter."

In The Motor Mail
Q. Should car windows be open or closed for best gas mileage?
L. L. G.

A. Closed. A convertible gives better mileage with the top up and windows closed. Air passes over the car more smoothly this way.

Q. What would cause the choke to stay in operation too long? This is causing the engine to load up and run unevenly during the warm-up period.
L. D.

A. The usual cause is a air leak in the small pipe from the choke's thermostatic coil to the "stove" on the exhaust manifold. Sometimes this tube is clogged. Q. Is it possible to operate a portable TV set from a car's generator-battery system?
R. H. B.

A. Yes, with the aid of a special converter. It should be of 175 to 200 watt capacity.

Q. The engine of my car seems to be getting progressively harder to start in the mornings. A tune-up hasn't helped. Plugs and breaker points are new. Timing is right on the button.
N. H.

A. Chances are that the engine is cranking too slowly. If its compression is down because of wear that would make matters worse. Use lighter oil and give the battery a good charge.

Q. What's wrong when an engine has a very pronounced miss during idling but seems to run smoothly when pulling the car. This has been going on for quite a while. Gas mileage is not up to normal, but the car still climbs hills quite well.
T. H. Jr.

A. This is a sure sign of a leaky valve. The valve's stem is probably sticking during idling. Q. For some time oil has been leaking from the timing case cover. Replacing the gasket hasn't helped. Any ideas on this?
L. M. V.

A. On your car such leakage can be at the engine support plate.

Q. The generator of my car makes an odd noise. I can't see anything wrong with it except some glaze on the commutator.
F. D. G.

A. That is the reason for the noise. Better have the generator removed and serviced.

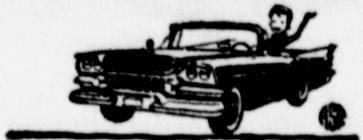

Q. My car is steering quite hard. Tire pressures are all right.

so is front-end alignment. The case is tightly bolted to the frame. N. L.

A. My guess is that the gear box needs lubrication badly.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him care of The Gettysburg Times and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. Please confine inquiries to one subject and limit letter to 100 words or less.

Bragging Drivers Cause Accidents

By MARTHA JOHNSON
Safety Consultant

Do you have to show off the power of your new car? Do you have to demonstrate your skill in making time through traffic? The National Safety Council warns that this kind of "YOU" causes accidents.

You may be an experienced driver, but if you have the competitive urge to pass cars even when you're not in a hurry—then you're asking for trouble. If you have to beat everyone away from the light, and insist on keeping the other fellow in his lane—you are in danger of becoming a traffic statistic.

The over-confident driver causes many accidents. He gets a sudden feeling of power when he takes the wheel. This power-complex leads him to take chances. And, when you take chances, you frequently don't win.

Try to remember that the other driver pays highway taxes too. It's his road as much as it's yours. The other driver has just as much right to the road as you have. Don't try to compete with—just try to live with him. Give him part of your share of the road, and be safe.

WHILE breezing along the vacation highway this summer with the family boat or house trailer, would you be able to spell with your husband when he's driving? If the very thought of pulling a trailer brings panic, my experience prove it's a cinch.

On a recent trip from Detroit to Houston I discovered the established cautious, courteous traffic safety rules and a few special precautions are the main requirements.

I learned to: Drive at more moderate speeds. The added weight of a trailer requires more stopping distance.

Allow plenty of clearance when passing, changing lanes and turning.

When backing, steer left to make the trailer go to the right.

Make frequent safety checks of the trailer enroute.

Never allow anyone to ride in the trailer.

Before leaving home, make certain your husband has checked these points so your trip will be enjoyable and free from worry. Check your state's motor vehicle laws and those of states through which you will travel.

Make certain the car is capable of pulling the extra weight. Hitch should be bolted to the frame of the car, not just the bumper. Supplement the hitch with a safety chain.

Provide clearly visible reflectors, direction and warning lights on rear of trailer.

Have you ever been a line of cars at a railroad crossing waiting for a train to pass when a driver somewhere behind you starts to lean on his horn?

And, while listening to the senseless, irritating blare of the horn, have you ever bragged to yourself how you never use your horn and therefore are a great driver?

If you have, you're just as wrong as the smarty-pants with the heavy hand.

Car horns have gotten a bad name because of the railroad crossing character, the teenage boy who honks loud and long to announce his arrival at the girl friend's house, and others who mis-use the instrument.

Because of this, many drivers refrain from using the horn when they should, depriving themselves of an important safety device.

When a driver absent-mindedly starts to pull in front of you and could possibly cause a crash, there is no better way to alert him than a short, sharp blast of the horn.

The horn also is invaluable for warning youngsters playing in a street of a car's approach.

Proper use of the horn is all-important. There is a sense of urgency in a brief honk. One long, blaring note is just so much noise.

Remember don't have a mute car. Toot-toot for safety.

MAYOR RACE LINKED WITH BENCH FIGHT

HARRISBURG (AP) — The outcome of two statewide judicial contests in the Nov. 3 general election is becoming more closely tied to Philadelphia's mayoralty fight.

The theory—expressed by several political leaders—is that an upset victory for Harold Stassen in heavily Democratic Philadelphia would immeasurably aid Republican candidates for State Supreme and Superior Courts.

Even a Stassen loss but with good GOP showing would tend to have the same effect. But Democratic incumbent Mayor Richardson Dilworth is an odds-on favorite to knock down once again Stassen's aspirations to assume a larger role in Pennsylvania Republicanism.

1960 In Mind

The one-time presidential aide lost the GOP nomination for governor last year. There has been speculation that Stassen entered the mayoralty fight to assume recognition for a Republican delegate's post to the 1960 presidential convention.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, House Republican floor leader and GOP nominee for Superior Court, expressed the hope that Stassen can make a large dent in the big Democratic stronghold of Philadelphia.

"I feel this is a Republican year in Pennsylvania but a good showing by Stassen in Philadelphia would help us even more," said Johnson.

John S. Rice, Democratic state chairman, acknowledged the pivotal role that the Philadelphia mayoralty contest will play in the two statewide judicial contests.

But he pointed to the 100,000-voter registration edge that his party has now piled up in what was once a tremendous GOP stronghold.

"We ought to come out of Philadelphia with a tremendous majority for our judicial contests," Rice said. "That, with other gains we're anticipating in the state, will assure us of a victory."

George I. Bloom, Republican state chairman, wasn't talking about the Philadelphia fight. But he said the Nov. 3 municipal election results would be enough to point a trend toward his party in the 1960 presidential campaign.

AUXILIARY IS READY TO FIGHT

ORELAND, Pa. (AP) — Mary Bunting is all fired up today for her battle with the Oreland Volunteer Fire Co.

The company ignited the red-hot feud last June when it fired the Women's Auxiliary, of which Mrs. Bunting was president.

The auxiliary, composed of 35 women, recently hired a lawyer and went into Montgomery County Court seeking reinstatement on the grounds they could not be ejected because their 1959 dues had been paid and the action was in violation of their constitution.

The case is expected to come up within the next 10 days.

"We'll stand up for our rights," Mrs. Bunting declared today.

Since June there have been accusations and counter-accusations. The women said a new guard of younger men officers was using "gestapo and dictatorial methods" in running the fire house.

The men charged that the women are interfering in the operation of the company.

The big thing that really added fuel to the fire was the recent disbanding of the band. The women said it was done for no reason.

Korean War Brought To Gen. Marshall Some Of His Toughest Decisions

EDITORS: This is the last of three articles on the late Gen. George C. Marshall.

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the hardest decisions Gen. George C. Marshall had to make in a half century of military and official life came in his last job.

He was secretary of defense of a year, in the dark time of the Korean War.

It was his duty to recommend to the White House and the State Department the way to fight that never completely popular and eventually victory-less war.

At Odds With MacArthur
Marshall, President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson, fearing the limited war might flare into global conflict, were at odds with the strategy of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the battle-field commander.

MacArthur took his case to the public, and Truman fired him. Marshall supported Truman. Still, the ouster of the hero of World War II in the Pacific was distressing to him. When Marshall testified before an investigating Senate committee he expressed regret at having to say what he did. He said of MacArthur:

"He is a brother Army officer, a man for whom I have had tremendous respect as to his military capabilities and military performance."

Marshall Drew Line
But here Marshall drew the line that he had drawn on occasions in World War II when he was Army chief: The decisions of the top command must be the final and prevailing decisions.

There was no disagreement about the way the Korean War should be fought as between the President, the joint chiefs of staff and himself, Marshall declared.

But there was and continued to be a basic difference between the commander in Korea and Washington headquarters, the secretary said.

Marshall believed that MacArthur would have the United States carry the conflict from Korea to the Chinese mainland and would have us accept the risk of involvement not only in an extension of the war with Red China but an all-out war with the Soviet Union.

Defended By Lovett
Marshall's long standing practice was to let the joint chiefs of staff make the military assessments of a situation, prepare the complete plans and recommendations and then hand them to him when all was ready.

To some with log government experience, this was entirely commendable practice.

To others with equal experience it suggested that Marshall was delegating too much authority, refusing to make workaday decisions.

Robert Lovett, who was deputy defense secretary under Marshall and then succeeded him as secretary, disagrees with the contention that Marshall shied off responsibility.

Given Nobel Prize
Marshall, says Lovett, directed subordinates including the joint chiefs, to do the spade work, to staff the problem and to submit proposals.

"He waited until policy had outlined and established firmly then moved," Lovett says. "That is what a good commander does."

"If there was a fault in Gen. Marshall," Lovett adds, "it was the sense of duty magnified to the point where he abandoned rest and recuperation."

In 1953 he got up from a sick bed to go to Europe to accept award of the Nobel Peace Prize. The award was for the "Marshall Plan" for Europe's recovery from World War II.

No Book Of Memoirs
He came back from that long journey to the quiet life at Leesburg and at the Marshalls' winter home at Pinehurst, N.C. Age and illness began to tell.

However, he plugged away at winding up unfinished business. Marshall declined to write a book of memoirs.

"A Hoe Doesn't Talk"
He did help in putting together for a foundation a vast amount of documents and other material which recorded his official history. It included more than 40 hours of memoranda dictated by Marshall who worked faithfully each summer in a small garden at his Leesburg home.

It was a quiet spot, where few people came to argue about current or past controversies. He he could be alone to meditate, while leaning on the handle of a garden tool.

"I like to work in the garden because a hoe doesn't talk," he said.

FACING REALITIES

The existing County Home is badly out-moded and has been repeatedly critized by grand juries for years. State authorities have insisted that conditions there be brought in line with present-day standards. By unanimous action in 1957 the Commissioners appointed a nonpolitical Advisory Committee to study the needs at the County Home. Their detailed report has been enthusiastically endorsed by the State as a program wholly suitable for, and within the means of, a small county.

NOW after almost two years of consideration the Commissioners hope to begin construction of a new home this year. Plans are now underway, by the efforts of your Commissioners, for a Government appropriation of $125,000.00. No county bond issue will be floated.

Is Adams County to ignore this program, or face up to it in a realistic, common-sense approach?

YANK, OUSTED FROM MOSCOW, TREATED ROUGH

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (AP)—Russell A. Langelie, expelled from the Soviet Union on charges of attempted espionage, waited today for State Department approval of his request to come home by ship.

Langelie, his wife and their three children arrived here Monday by plane from Moscow. When asked about the Soviet charges against him, he referred to the U. S. note emphatically denying he had made any attempt at espionage.

"Physical Abduction"

The State Department has said Langelie, 37, a security officer at the embassy, was seized by five Russians as he got off a bus, was taken to a nearby building, questioned and threatened for several hours, and that the Russians also tried unsuccessfully to get him to spy for the Soviet Union.

Langelie, on arrival in Amsterdam, said his was a case of "physical abduction" and he got "pretty rough treatment." He refused to go into details and would not discuss the Soviet charges against him, referring questioners to the State Department note to the Russians.

Langelie went shopping and sight-seeing in Amsterdam with his 37-year-old wife and their three children, Linda, 7, David, 5, and Mary, 2.

One of the first woman journalists was Anne Royall, who scooped her colleagues by interviewing President John Quincy Adams while sitting on his clothes. Today, both newspapers — and readers — benefit from the work and writings of women in practically every branch of journalism.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

When he was approaching 50, Leo Tolstoy, one of the greatest writers in the history of literature, felt an emptiness within him. He was famous, wealthy, titled, happily married and a proud father, yet he said: "Why wish for anything, or do anything? Is there any meaning in life?"

This profound melancholy lasted for about three years, but the answer Tolstoy found to his question changed his life. He discovered "those clear simple truths common to all men . . . the Spirit of God lives in man and the practical rule . . . that man should act towards others as he wishes others to act towards himself . . . God is a Spirit whose image lives in us, the power of which we can increase by our conduct . . . and all that naturally follows a peaceful, friendly, happy life would come about for humanity . . ."

Tolstoy renounced his title, and began his work to relieve the oppressed. He crusaded for the rights of peasants, protested the oppression of minorities, and opposed capital punishment and the use of physical force. All that remained of his old ways of living were his tremendous literary contributions.

Every morning in solitude, Tolstoy prayed. He wrote, "My prayer is like this . . . 'Who so abideth in love abideth in God, and God in him . . . if we love one another . . . His love is fulfilled in us . . . Brethren, let us love one another, for God is love.'"

RUSSIA JAMS BROADCASTS OF YANKS' OUSTER

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington monitors reported today the Soviets apparently have turned on their radio jammers against the Voice of America's broadcasts of the Langelie affair.

Russell A. Langelie is the U.S. diplomat whom the Reds kicked out of the Soviet Union last weekend, saying they caught him in spy work. The United States has denied the spy accusations.

Langelie, who had been top security officer at the American Embassy in Moscow, is now on his way back to Washington with his family amid protests and counter-protests between the two capitals.

Opened For Red Visit

Soviet jamming of the Voice of America's Russian-language programs stopped for the first time in a decade when Premier Nikita Khrushchev visited the United States last month. It has been sporadic since.

The story has not yet been published in the Soviet Union. Soviet newsmen said Monday they have been given an account for future publication. It is far different from the U.S. version.

The U.S. version is that Langelie was seized last Friday by five Soviets in civilian clothes as he alighted from a bus near the embassy who took him to a nearby building, and questioned and threatened him for several hours. They also tried unsuccessfully to get him to act as a spy for the Soviet Union.

"Rough Treatment"

Langelie, on his way back to Washington, said in Amsterdam Monday night he got "pretty rough treatment" from the Soviets. He didn't elaborate.

The version of the incident reported by Soviet newspaper sources is that passengers on the bus seized two men after one handed the other a large package that appeared to contain money. Authorities found one man, a Soviet citizen, had a package containing 20,000 rubles (about $5,000) and material for making secret inks. The other, Langelie, voluntarily handed over a notebook containing secret data written in invisible ink.

News Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army's draft call for December is for 9,000 men, the same as scheduled for October and November.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Firemen Monday night hacked fire breaks completely around a brushfire which has charred 14,000 acres of watershed in the hills north of Los Angeles.

Two firefighters died fighting the blaze, which menaced two luxurious suburbs and a tiny mountain community. Two thousand firemen and a fleet of water-bombing planes saved all the threatened homes.

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California says he'd accept the Democratic presidential nomination if he were offered it, but he adds he has no interest in the vice presidential nomination.

The 54-year-old Brown, twice attorney general of California, told newsmen Monday that he still does not consider himself an active candidate for the presidency.

TRIAL FOR YORK MAN'S MURDER IS UNDERWAY

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A state policeman testified Monday night that one of three men charged with beating a York man admitted striking the victim.

Sgt. Edward P. Rowan said Frederick Gorba, 32, of Portage R. 1, told police he struck 34-year-old James L. Lau on the chest or arm to try to get him out of his auto.

Gorba's brother, James, 24, and Andrew Ligda, 22, all of Portage R. 1, are on trial on murder charges in connection with Lau's death.

Ida Mae Yohn of Altoona, a friend of the older Gorba, testified that she went for a ride with the three men Nov. 23 and heard James Gorba and Ligda talk about the beating of Lau.

"I heard someone say that Jim kicked the man in the head," she said. She added that she told the older Gorba not to return to the scene of the beating because "someone might pin a murder rap on him."

STEEL FOR MONTH

SHARON, Pa. (AP) — The Westinghouse Electric Corp. says it has enough steel to operate at least another month despite the length of the nationwide steel strike.

The firm said Monday it has recalled 50 to 60 furloughed workers each month for the past three months.

Former Roller Skating Champ Is Shot To Death

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—Earl Van Horn, 62, former roller-skating champion, was shot to death early today by his wife after a bitter argument in their home, police reported.

The wife, Jean, 35, is a onetime polo victim whom Van Horn induced to take up skating as therapy for her paralysis. She not only overcame her physical difficulties but in time became a skating star herself.

The cause of the couple's argument was not immediately disclosed but police said that after two hours of angry squabbling Mrs. Van Horn grabbed a shotgun and fired at her husband. The blast hit him in the stomach.

First Wife Is Manager

Amid the dispute, a 12-year-old daughter called out several times from her bedroom asking the parents to "keep quiet, I'm trying to sleep." The girl, Gretchen, telephoned police after hearing the shot.

For more than 20 years he had been co-owner of a skating rink in this Long Island community. Mrs. Van Horn was his second wife. He obtained a divorce from his first wife, Inez, to marry her in the late 1940s.

The first wife has been serving as manager of the skating rink. Friends said Van Horn had undergone two cancer operations during the past year, and had been in much pain during recent months. His wife, it was said, has been subject to "blackouts" of late and had been forbidden to drive a car.

The couple had two other children, Earl Jr., 10, and Lisa, 3.

ERROL FLYNN'S PROTEGE WILL PEN MEMOIRS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—At 17, blonde Beverly Aadland is already planning her memoirs.

Miss Aadland also plans to resume her show business career. "Show business is all I know," she said at the home of Attorney Melvin Belli, a friend of Errol Flynn.

Miss Aadland said she has been asked to write a story of her life with the dashing actor-playboy. "I've been thinking of writing the story of my life before that, too," she said. "I'd write it myself. I think I'm the only person who could do it."

Bury Flynn Monday

Flynn was buried Monday at quiet ceremonies in Los Angeles. At about the same time, Miss Aadland, wearing a black sack dress, held a news conference at Belli's Telegraph Hill apartment here.

One reporter asked: "Do you like sack dresses—or are you expecting?"

Flynn's young girl friend never quite answered.

"Errol bought me this dress," she replied with a smile. "He liked it very much."

"But are you expecting?"

"We had hoped for that very much," Miss Aadland said. "Just say that's one thing we wanted very badly."

WORKER CRUSHED

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Domenico Fulginita, 33-year-old construction worker from (4993 Girard Ave.) Philadelphia, was crushed to death between two trucks Monday on Route 30 near Greensburg.

Westmoreland County Coroner Stephen D. Yoney said Fulginita was unhooking a chain between two trucks when a car crashed into the rear of the second truck and pushed into the first truck, crushing him.

U.S. Plastics Specialist In U.S.S.R. Tells Of Decision To Become Soviet Citizen

Editor's: The following dispatch written Saturday passed through Soviet censorship and was received in New York Monday morning. The reason for the delay in transmission was not explained.

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—Robert Edward Webster, about 30, a plastics specialist who worked at the American exhibition here last summer, told the U.S. Embassy Saturday he is renouncing his American citizenship and becoming a Soviet citizen.

Webster's home is in Cleveland, Ohio. He left his wife and two children behind to take up a new life in the Soviet Union. He expects his skill in plastics to provide him a living.

In a somewhat emotional scene at the embassy he handed a signed statement to Consul General Richard Snyder renouncing his American citizenship. He said he was granted Soviet citizenship two weeks ago. He reported he will not be allowed to change his mind and will never be allowed to leave Russia.

Sent By Manufacturer

Webster was sent to the exhibition by the Rand Development Corp., makers of plastics. Dr. H. J. Rand, head of the corporation, was on hand Saturday when Webster's decision was announced.

Rand said Webster claimed he had made all necessary arrangements for his wife and children to be cared for.

Webster's mother, Mrs. C. E. Webster, reached by telephone in Zelenople, Pa., said her son hasn't contacted us directly. She said he is their only child.

In Cleveland it was learned Webster's wife, Martha Burrell Webster, was with her parents in Zelenople and had taken her two children. Webster attended Geneva College at Beaver Falls, Pa., for two years.

Second Such Case

Webster is the second American to renounce his citizenship here in little more than a month.

Nicholas Petrulli, 38, a sheet metal worker of Valley Stream, N.Y., took this step Sept. 3 on a visit to the Soviet Union. His application for Soviet citizenship failed to draw a prompt response, however, and he changed his mind. He returned to New York Sept. 22.

Webster disappeared Sept. 10 after he finished helping clean up the exhibition. He said he sold some clothes to finance a tour, going among other places to Kiev and to Leningrad. Rand returned to Moscow Oct. 14 after efforts to get in touch with Webster failed.

Rand and Snyder were notified Saturday they could see Webster at the police agency where affairs of foreigners are handled.

Looked Strained

"He looked emotionally strained," Rand told correspondents, but otherwise was apparently calm.

Webster declared he had been put under no pressure from the Russians, rather that they had questioned him at length about his intentions.

He said he has not yet received a Soviet passport, but will turn in his American passport within two weeks when he returns to Leningrad.

Snyder told newsmen Webster

COMPROMISE SHAPING UP ON SCHOOL AID

HARRISBURG (AP)—A tentative agreement shaped up today to assure some 2,000 school districts that their state aid for the 1960-61 school year won't be any less than they will receive in 1959-60.

It is based on a compromise by House - Senate conferees that the remaining 300 school districts, including Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, would receive boosts in 1960-61 due them under a state Tax Equalization Board report.

Rep. Stephen McCann, Democratic floor leader, unveiled details of the agreement in pressing for final adjournment of the 1959 Legislature next Monday with little chance that Senate Republicans would agree.

To Cost $3,000,000

"I estimate the net additional cost to the Commonwealth (under the school aid agreement) will be about three million dollars," he told the Associated Press.

The Tax Equalization Board's annual report on real estate mar-

technically remains an American citizen until the passport is surrendered.

Rand said Webster has no special knowledge of plastics or electronics which might be considered strategically important.

He reported Webster's wife objected to a prospective six-week separation when he came to work at the exhibition, but finally agreed to it.

Webster's wife, contacted by phone at Zelenople, said: "I don't know anything about it. It's a surprise to me. I have nothing more to say."

STEEL LACK PRESSURES INDUSTRIES

By DAVID A. LEHERR

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Industry

across the nation continues to be hard pressed by the nationwide steel strike. And the anticipated court injunction under the Taft-Hartley Act to end the 96-day-old strike isn't expected to help much. Industry leaders have said that even if the injunction brings the steel strike to a halt for 80 days it will take six weeks or so for ket valuations is used in determining school subsidies. Its recent report would have cut 1960-61 state aid for some 2,000 schools, most of them in rural areas, by nearly seven million dollars.

Senate Republicans agreed to the compromise at a caucus Monday. So did House Democrats.

House Republicans refused to go along, contending that something should be done about their plan to give 30 million dollars in increased state aid for schools—apart from the Tax Equalization Board findings—in the next two years.

Other Developments

But their position can be overridden by the House Democratic majority.

Other legislative developments: Final Adjournment—The House voted, 91-88, Monday night to adjourn the 1959 Legislature finally Oct. 26. This Democratic plan was given only an outside chance of acceptance by Senate Republicans.

Rep. Edwin W. Tompkins, House Republican assistant floor leader, assailed it as a political move. He claimed a current deadlock on appropriations could not be resolved by next Monday.

To Recess Tomorrow

Senate Republicans went ahead with plans to recess Wednesday until after the Nov. 3 municipal election, coming back to Harrisburg Nov. 9 or 16.

Budget — McCann said the $1,480,000,000 General Appropriations Bill still is deadlocked although efforts would be renewed to reach an agreement despite Monday's unproductive session among House - Senate conferees.

Democrats are pushing for GOP acceptance of a plan to increase an appropriation for urban redevelopment and slum clearance to eight million dollars.

Gov. Lawrence had proposed spending 10 millions for this purpose. Senate Republicans had cut it back to 3 millions.

School Aid — The House Democratic leadership planned a vote today on a proposed 70-million-dollar plan to increase state aid to schools.

The bill, backed by Philadelphia Democrats, would change the formula for paying state aid so that the number of nonpublic as well as public school pupils would become a factor in determining the state payments. Parochial schools would continue to be ineligible for state subsidies.

the mills to reach 90 per cent of capacity. This leaves the industries with little hope of quick relief.

The strike has already idled more than 249,000 employees in the auto, appliance, construction, farm equipment, railroad and other industries. And more lay-offs are expected each week. Taft-Hartley law or no Taft-Hartley law.

Auto Industry Suffers

Hardest hit is the auto industry. Sources have indicated that more than 61,000 employees of the General Motor organization alone are furloughed. Almost all GM car production is due to halt by Nov. 1 because of a lack of steel.

The strike is also taking a deep bite out of the national defense. The government — feeling the pinch—has ordered the steel industry to give top priority to items destined for use in missiles, launching sites and nuclear submarines as soon as the strike ends.

The construction industry isn't faring much better. The American Institute of Steel Construction was quoted as saying the steel strike is starting to hurt

CONFUSION ON LICENSE FEES FOR STATION WAGON ENDS

Most of the approximately 2,000 owners of station wagons in Adams County will be paying a higher—by $2—fee for their licenses next year, but they will as a result no longer be in danger of arrest when they do what most people have done for years with the station wagon—haul many types of cargo.

David Oyler, local publicity chairman for the Pennsylvania Automotive Association, said today his organization had expressed the gratification of the state's new car dealers to the state Legislature and governor for passing the new law setting up a "suburban tag" for station wagons which "will once and for all end the misunderstanding which has existed over a long period of years in regard to the registration and use of station wagons in Pennsylvania."

Under the old system a station wagon could be registered for $10 as a passenger car, or by paying $16.50, the owner could register it as a commercial vehicle, depending upon which use the owner intended to make of the vehicle.

Confusion Ended

This situation, Oyler said, led to confusion and illegal use of station wagons, in most instances unknown to the owners, and which could have resulted and often did result in arrests.

The new $12 suburban fee will permit the owner to use his station wagon either as a passenger car or a commercial vehicle and it will be treated in respect to speed limits, inspection and on restricted highways as a passenger car.

Under the law which has now been replaced station wagon owners actually were more restricted than passenger car owners, Oyler said. Under the old law if a station wagon had a passenger license its owner could be prosecuted if he carried anything but luggage and passengers in the car. If he put his lawn mower, or his television set, or anything other than luggage into the station wagon he was subject to arrest because it placed the vehicle in the "commercial classification."

The new law does away with "such confusion," Oyler said.

Nuclear energy is being used to test the soundness of wooden railroad ties. The density tester uses low-level gamma rays which are reflected from the interior of the tested material, back to a radiation counting device. A sound tie reflects more ray. The tester also might be used in determining soundness of piles, floors, beams and other timber structures.

In the past two years, newspaper publishers spent more than $150,000,000 to modernize their plants and equipment.

WM. H. PENSYL PULPIT GUEST OF METHODISTS

William H. Pensyl, Gettysburg, was the guest speaker at the Laymen's Day worship service on Sunday morning in Centenary Methodist Church, Ralph R. Rugles Jr., associate lay leader, presided. Mr. Pensyl read the opening Scripture lesson; Charles Wolfert offered prayer, followed with a choral response; Chester S. Byers, worship in giving; David Byers and Richard Harner served as ushers. The altar flowers were given by Mrs. Bertha Harner in memory of her mother, Mrs. Lloyd Harner. An arrangement was placed in memory of William Harner by his daughters, Mary and Joan.

Harvest Home will be observed at the 10:30 a.m. worship service in Centenary Church on Sunday. A sermon on the subject "God's Bounty Our Opportunity," will be delivered by the pastor, the Rev. William R. Jones. Gifts for the harvest display should be taken to the church by 2 p.m. on Saturday for placement.

A Halloween party for the children of the Nursery, Kindergarten, Primary and Junior Departments of Centenary church school will be held at 7 o'clock on Friday evening at the church.

Hayride For Scouts

Explorer Post 84 had a hayride for members and their guests on Saturday night. Following the hayride, there was a dance at the Explorer headquarters on E. King St., and refreshments were served by assistant post advisor, James Evans. Charles Mummert was the disk jockey for the dances and Larry Wenger was the driver for the hayride.

Guests and Explorers who enjoyed the evening were Bonnie Storm, Joyce Reinhart, Janice Evans, Patricia Myers, JoAnn Beamer, JoAnn Scott, Peggy Croft, Bonnie Greene, Jill Weikert, Joan Barton Flinchbaugh, Bernard Weaver, James Eline, Joe Boyd, William Woodward, Dwight Strevig, Robert Hahn, Charles Hahn, Lester Barnes, Ronald Gladhill, Richard Motter and Ted Bortner and the chaperons, Donald Kump and Miss Nancy Douglas.

Held Baptisms

The Rev. William C. Karns, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, baptized these two infants during the Sunday morning worship service: Rodney Neal Bowers, born April 22, 1959, in Waynesboro, the son of Rodney Odale and Yvonne Kea (Addison) Bowers; Timothy Monroe Myers, born September 23, 1959, in Hanover, son of Ralph Monroe and Dorothy Louise (Laughman) Myers. Cheryl Ann Sentz, daughter of Robert Monroe Jr. and Doris Elizabeth (DeGroot) Sentz, Littletown R. 1, was baptized Sunday afternoon in the church by the Rev. Mr. Karns. Cheryl Ann was born March 15, 1959, at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg. The parents were the baptismal sponsors.

The Rev. Mr. Karns has announced that the annual subscription campaign to the denominational publication "The Lutheran" is now in progress among St. John's congregational. The subscription rate is $2 per year.

Israel will not permit the refugees to return to their former homes in Israel declaring that the refugees can be absorbed by the Arab nations, he said. The Arab nations will not permit absorption of the refugees except in small numbers and the United Arab Republic will not permit them to emigrate to other countries claiming they should return to Israel. "As a result we have a stalemate."

The United Nations in the meantime is providing food, shelter, education and clothing secured in drives in the various churches. The 1,600 calories per day provided by the U.N. seems sufficient—"they seem to be thriving on it." Preventative medicine and treatment by U.N. medical teams are keeping the health level of the refugees high.

Attorney Edward B. Bulleit presented attendance awards to: John Hostetter for eight years; Harold Reuning, 11 years; Melvin Sergeant, six years; Mares Sherman, 12 years; Ray Seltzer, six years, and Dr. M. L. Stokes two years.

Many Honor General

George C. Marshall

WASHINGTON (AP)—Muffled drums tap out a soldier's farewell today for Gen. George C. Marshall.

President Eisenhower and former President Harry S. Truman were to attend funeral services at the Ft. Myer, Va., chapel for the five-star general of the Army.

Marshall died Friday night at 78 after a long illness.

The general had served as Army chief of staff during World War II and later as secretary of state and secretary of defense. He was author of the Marshall Plan which helped war-weakened Europe along the road to economic recovery.

The body of the soldier-statesman rested in Bethlehem Chapel of the Washington National (Episcopal) Cathedral until time for the services at Ft. Myer, just across the Potomac River from Washington.
